

Around the Lienz Dolomites

Altitude profile

The most important at a glance

distance 110 km

altitude meters uphill 1578 m

altitude meters downhill 1563 m

highest point 1529 m

difficulty
average

circuit
yes

fitness:

* * * * *

technique:

* * * * *

public transport:

Take the train or bus to the station in Lienz.

parking:

At the Dolomitenstadion, at the Lienz station and at the car park Stegergarten/City Center Parking spaces are available.?

starting point: RGO Arena Lienz

destination point: Lienz center

best season: MAY, JUN, JUL, AUG, SEP, OCT

arrival

Stop

Lienz (Tirol) Peggetz Fa. Liebherr

Lienz (Tirol) Peggetz Auenweg

Lienz-Peggetz Bahnhof

Parking spot

Car park Bahnhof Lienz

Gpx file

Interactive map

download>

open>

Description

From Hochpustertal to Lienz initially along the B100, down from the Drau heading for Oberdrauburg. Start bearing right there, taking the mountain road across Gailberg Saddle to the twin towns of Kötschach-Mauthen. On this just 13 km long connection there is a partly upgraded mountain road which has a 10 % gradient to the north and a drop of 8% in the south. From Kötschach-Mauthen, the Lesachtal extends to the Carinthian border – it is one of the most scenic valleys in the Eastern Alps. Just before the state border for Tyrol you reach the Maria Luggau pilgrimage church. Due to the terrain motorbike riders go from one bend to another. Crash barriers have been erected at all dangerous sections. The maximum inclines are 12 %. During the transitional seasons in particular the views through the southern valleys to the snow-covered peaks of the Carnic Alps are impressive. Continuing on the B111 you come to the conservation-protected scattered village of Obertilliach. Via the 1530m Kartitsch Saddle you get to Kartitsch. After this, several serpentines proceed to Tassenbach, where you once again merge on to the Pustertaler Straße, the B 100. You follow the B100 to the starting point Lienz.