Description

This viewing platform, with its modest, durable design made from larch wood makes it possible for you to experience the water falling from the waterfall up close – the cooling spray from the water is particularly pleasant when the temperatures soar in the summer. Along with the viewing platform, seating has been set up to enjoy the natural spectacle of the Staller Waterfall.

This hike starts in Maria Hilf and proceeds to Stadtner Mühle, which is right at the waterfall. Just before the mill, a steep trail heads in a southerly direction to the viewing platform. You can still hike from there up to Alpe Stalle.
