Description

You start your hike on the marked trail that takes you up to the Zopetscharte. Once at the top, keep left and follow the exposed ridge directly towards the Tulpspitze. Some sections in this area are secured with a rope. If you are absolutely sure-footed, you can manage this section without a via ferrata set. But don’t underestimate the route: it remains a demanding and difficult mountain tour in high-alpine terrain, which you should not take lightly!
