Description

Starting point – tourist office in Prägraten or Wallhorn chapel.

The route proceeds through the village in an easterly direction to the chapel in Wallhorn (car parking available), continuing from there via the road to the final farm, "Osema". The actual winter hiking trail starts there, proceeding in numerous hairpin bends to the "Grießeralm", then continuing to Bodenalm.

Alternative:

You could also park your car at the winter parking area in Wallhorn. From there, follow the signs for the "Wallhornrunde" winter hiking trail. First you walk across open terrain (prepared) in the direction of a detached house. Then head in a north-westerly direction up a moderately steep field path until you reach the municipal road. There you meet the "Bodenalm" winter hiking trail and follow it uphill.
